Who can join?

Corporate members are any organisations with an interest in the forward progress of suburban and regional centres. They can be local governments, government bodies, companies, Universities, or professional firms.

Why your organisation should join

Suburban Futures is the only professional research and advocacy group devoted to advancing the interests of suburban and regional centres, and the businesses and opportunities within them. Our evidence-based approach has been praised by leading urbanists and organisations both here in Australia and in the USA and Canada. If your interests align with more support for enhanced opportunities for jobs and infrastructure and amenity in suburban and regional areas, then we are for you.

Our Corporate Members 2022-2023

Become a Corporate Member

Join other local governments, government bodies, companies, Universities, and professional firms in the only professional research and advocacy group devoted to advancing the interests of suburban and regional centres.

The benefits of belonging

- ▶ Corporate members have the opportunity to shape and influence the direction of policies that affect suburban and regional centres.
- ▶ Corporate members are invited to a series of high-level boardroom lunch meetings with leaders of government and industry throughout the year. Approximately six per annum and costs included in your membership.
- ▶ Corporate member representatives are invited to attend any of the workshops hosted by Suburban Futures during the year.
- ▶ Your organisation's logo is prominently displayed on our website and in monthly EDMs (to approx. 1,500 recipients plus an extensive LinkedIn audience).
- ▶ Your corporate member representative can change depending on availability, so your organisation can maximise opportunities to share its views and to gain exclusive insights at our events.

Proven performance and expertise

- ▶ 30 Corporate Members in 2022-2023 agree with our value proposition.
- ▶ Over 1,500 opt in subscriber members follow our activities.
- ▶ Very high-level policy engagement with leaders of local and state government, and industry.
- ▶ Prominent industry and government networking.
- ▶ Policy influence which has led to measurable policy change and direction.
- ▶ Ongoing research, advocacy and education program.

“While nearly all metropolitan Australians live in the suburbs and 85% of all jobs are in the suburbs these areas are poorly served by transport other infrastructure. The role of Suburban Futures in forcing a more accurate and fairer perspective on the ways that our cities should grow is increasingly important to all Australians.”

Peter Seamer, AM. Former CEO of Victorian Planning Authority. Former CEO Federation Square. Honorary Senior Industry Fellow in the School of Global, Urban and Social Studies within the College of Design and Social Context at the RMIT. Chair of the Advisory Board for the NHMRC CRE in Healthy, Liveable Communities. Former CEO of the Cities of Essendon, Greater Bendigo, Whitehorse, and Sydney.

“Suburban Futures is a go-to source for up-to-date news and information about global suburban trends, and one of the few unbiased resources for learning about the suburban market and suburban land use trends in general. Urban planning and transportation policy makers should take note and radically rethink outdated models that are failing for their citizens.”

Prof Alan Berger, MIT Center for Advanced Urbanism (Boston, USA). Professor of Landscape Architecture and Urban Design at Massachusetts Institute of Technology. Founding director of MIT's P-REX lab, a research lab focused on environmental problems caused by urbanization, including the design, remediation, and reuse of waste landscapes worldwide. Coeditor of Infinite Suburbia (2017).

How to join

There are no forms to fill in. Just send an email to hello@suburbanfutures.com.au with details of the billing entity and the primary organisation contact. We will invoice you and once paid, you have joined.

Send us your preferred logo also so we can update our digital collateral. You'll begin receiving invitations to events very soon after.

Corporate membership is based on a financial year – July 1 to June 30.
